

SMALL savings are of as much importance as large ones, but the owners of small savings, as a rule, are not duly sensible of that fact. The sum seems insignificant. They look at them absolutely, not relatively, failing to realize that rate of growth is what makes accumulations.

TRIP ON THE CANAL

It Was Taken by Chicago Officials on a Fast Steam Yacht.

SUMMIT, Ill., Jan. 20.—To demonstrate the practicability of the drainage canal as a link in the deep waterway between the lakes and the gulf, the sanitary trusts, to-day, made a trip on the canal, the first trip between Chicago and Lockport over the new watercourse in a steam propelled craft. The twenty-five foot depth of water in the canal afforded ample room for the trim yacht and the voyage was made in quick time.

In addition to the drainage trustees and other officials, there were aboard Mayor

Harrison, Commissioner of Public Works

McGinnis and other men prominent in business life. The feasibility of changing the canal into a deep waterway, which was demonstrated to the satisfaction of the party and the matter will be pushed.

During the trip, Trustee James Harrison to Admiral Dewey for a trip down the canal during his coming visit to Chicago.

Will Invite St. Louisans to Ride

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Members of the drainage board, who made their first official trip over the canal to-day traversing its entire length on the steamer Juliet, declined to invite the mayor and city officials of St. Louis to ride on the Juliet from Chicago to Lockport, believing that it will convince them that the waters of the channel are not a menace to the city of St. Louis.

For twenty minutes a flow of 25,000 cubic feet a minute was sent down the valley, 35,000 of it going over the bear-trap dam.

CHANGE AT HARVARD.

New Requirement for Admission to the Great University.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 20.—The faculty of Harvard University has passed a measure which may have an important bearing on the admission requirements in the English of the New England colleges.

The Harvard delegates at the recent meeting of the association of the New England colleges represented requested that the standard of the English be raised so as to comprise what is now freshman work. The committee refused to consider the proposition and therefore the Harvard faculty has adopted an important measure. The regular admission requirements to the various colleges are advanced to the level of at present agreed on by all the colleges will be allowed to remain, but in addition to the regular requirements, a new element to the present freshman work known as Class A. The candidate who passes the examination will not be required to take English in college and will thus have a free choice of his entire college course. The change is significant in two directions—it marks the beginning of a new movement by Harvard to have students acquire a knowledge of English composition and literature before entering college and it is a step towards making the work for the Harvard degree of A. B. entirely elective.

GEN. ANDERSON RETIRED.

Wade Temporarily in Command of the Department of the Lakes.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Brigadier General

Thomas M. Anderson, commander of the Department of the Lakes, was relieved from active duty to-day, having reached the age limit, sixty-four years. Gen. James F. Wade, department of the Dakotas, has been ordered to assume temporary command of the Department of the Lakes. General Anderson has under consideration ness. He will remain in Chicago until April at least. General Anderson is a nephew of Major Anderson, of Fort Sumter fame, and led the first United States force to army as a private in the Sixth Ohio infantry in April, 1861, and was promoted to the rank of captain for his gallant conduct in the rebellion, receiving a captain's commission in May, 1861. He was made brigadier general in the regular army in March, 1899.

General Anderson is the author of numerous books on military subjects.

DEATH OF A LECTURER.

DUBLIN, Jan. 20.—Excessive use of morphine, to which it appears he had been addicted during the past four years, was the cause of the death in a hospital here last night of Will J. McConnell, of Cleveland, O., well known in the West as a temperance lecturer. He came to this city on Wednesday last, registered at Green's Hotel. That night he was found on the streets in an unconscious condition and removed to a hospital. At that time his identity was unknown. The physicians discovered that he was suffering from morphine poisoning, and despite their efforts, he died shortly before midnight last night.

BURNED TO THE GROUND

WINCHESTER MILL DESTROYED.

LOSS FIFTEEN THOUSAND.

New Industries at Wabash and Other Points—Unusual Death at Dublin—

Bank Robber Identified.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WINCHESTER, Ind., Jan. 20.—Fire broke out at 9:15 to-night in the third story of the Winchester Milling Company's mill on the Big Four track, and in a little over an hour the structure was a mass of ruins. The mill, which cost $150,000 and had a capacity of 100,000 bushels of wheat, was destroyed by fire. More than 3,000 bushels of wheat were burned, with a carload of shelled corn and an office building standing apart from the mill. In addition the grocery of John Myer, across the street, was damaged to the extent of about $500.

The Winchester Milling Company is composed of H. C. and E. R. Draver, who came here from Minnesota about a year ago and bought the mill. They have carried on an active and profitable business, but have not decided the question of rebuilding.

ANOTHER NEW FACTORY.

Van Camp Hardware Company Will

Erect One at Matthews.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MATTHEWS, Ind., Jan. 20.—Things seem to be going to Matthews, this winter. To-day it was announced that the Van Camp Hardware Company, of Indianapolis, will locate a fruit jar factory near the site of the window-glass plant located by the same company at that place last week. It is also said that the Van Camp Company will build a tool works at Matthews. All this activity on the part of the big hardware company is in opposition to the plan of the Van Camp window-glass house is also an independent plant and a big one. There is reason to believe that the growth of Matthews has just begun and that for the coming year it will be much better than at this time. In 1899 and she has secured several good factories than then and has more good factories than many of the cities of much greater growth and pretensions.

INDIANA OBITUARY.

Capt. Smith, of Kokomo, a Member of the Lopez Filibusters.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

KOKOMO, Ind., Jan. 20.—Capt. Ambrose

Whitlock Smith, one of the oldest of the few survivors of the Lopez filibustering expedition into Cuba in 1849 and 1851, has passed away. Captain Smith was the father-in-law of E. B. Keller, a merchant of this place, and the grandfather of Rev.

Eino Keller, who was assistant chaplain in the One-hundred-and-fifty-eighth Indiana in the Spanish-American war. He died at Fortia, Ark., which place he had his home for some time. He had an eventful life aside from his Cuban experience.

He was a native Indian, born at Vincennes in 1830, his father being a prominent Vincennes merchant in early days. His boyhood days were spent as a boatman, contemporary with Mark Twain. His boat man from Vincennes to the Ohio river, he was changing the corn and pork of the North for the cotton and tobacco of the South for his father's store. Young Smith was at New Orleans when the first Cuban filibustering expedition was being organized, being
